

PROFILE

I am an undergraduate student at University of British Columbia studying under Bachelor of Science and am keen to pursue a degree in computer science. Throughout my school journey, involvement in different aspects of society has shaped me and contributed to my adaptive character. As an enthusiast for exploring new ideas, I have gained a lot of experiences beyond the school walls, acquiring abilities to work in a team and sustain good communication with peers while maintaining academic excellence.

HOBBIES

I have several hobbies and interests, some of which includes: basketball, badminton, photography, and piano. This advocacy has ameliorated several qualities in me including leadership, communication skills, networking abilities, and drive for competitiveness.
